

Long Cocks

The Humanist, the Master of Science and the Economist are competing about who has the longest cock!

They gather and one by one take off the trousers and shows what they have.

The Humanist is a woman and has no cock at all. The Economist laughs at her and claims: "Well! Women has nothing of value!"!

The Master of Science looks with pleasure upon her decorative, curly and beautiful sex. He observes something red in her pudenda. "This is fantastic! I have never seen anything more delicious!"

Then the Master of Science shows what he has got. His cock now has increased in an impressing, fine way at the sight of the delicious female sex. It stands right up and measures a length of 5 inches. The glans is totally free and has a drop of secretion on the hard top. The Humanist is totally charmed and enthusiastic and applauses. "You are the winner!"

The Economist snorts: "Do you believe that this is anything of value?"

Finally the Economist shows what he has got. But the cock hangs and dangles and is not even an inch long. The Humanist and the Master of Science drop some doubtful comments.

Then the Economist shows a Dollar-bill and holds it in front of his cock, that immediately raise and soon increases to an important length of 12 inches..

Sens moral: Some people only get horny by money!!
